

With housing,
there's a way
to find a job.

Jocelyn Segura and her supervisor, Venus Allen

Jocelyn Segura recently found work after being unemployed for six months.

Without an affordable place to live and a bus stop close by, Jocelyn would have had a tough time finding and keeping her new job at Community Resource Solutions, a local human services agency.

Our regional economy must have a skilled and available workforce. But to attract and keep workers, there must be suitable housing that is affordable, accessible and safe.

The Charlotte Housing Authority provides safe and affordable housing for families in need and its innovative Moving Forward program helps them become self-reliant. To learn more, visit www.cha-nc.org.

With housing, there's a way.

Moving  Forward
Families Advancing to Self-Reliance